Art Unit: 1761

1. Claims 1-11 stand withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR

1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in the reply filed on October 25, 2006.

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 12-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Claims 12-22 are indefinite in reciting "a mouthfeel test" (claim 12, line 3) since this is not an art recognized test for determining texture of a food product. The terms used in the test, from "like extremely" to "dislike extremely" are all relative terms without clear meaning, as is "smooth texture" (claim 12, line 2), and are based upon opinions that likely vary from one consumer to another. Applicant is invited to submit factual evidence to show how the claimed mouthfeel test is related to food texture. How would an alleged infringer know if he or she is infringing applicant's claims? Claim 21 is indefinite since it is not understood how appearance is related to texture. This can be corrected by changing "an appearance" (lines 1-2) to "a mouthfeel" and canceling "and...composition" (lines 3-5). Also, in claim 21, "based...like extremely" (lines 2-3) is redundant and should be cancelled since this language is present in claim 12. Corrections are required without new matter.

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 1761

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 12-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the articles listed in lines 2-4 of paragraph no. 5, Paper No. 010307, as set forth in said paragraph.

6. Claims 12-15 and 17-22 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over No-Crust Sweet Potato Pie as set forth in paragraph no. 6, Paper No. 010307.

7. Applicant's arguments filed April 9, 2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Since applicant's claimed mouthfeel is based upon relative terms without clear meaning, the pies disclosed in each primary reference can all be said to have a mouthfeel within applicant's claimed range. Applicant's contention that an unexpected function is achieved by applicant's invention is a mere conclusion and is not supported by any factual evidence of record. Aluminum, plastic and Styrofoam packages (claim 19) are conventional and would thus be obvious to use to package any type of pie.

8. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
